Mark Worster, President of Unitel and Chairman of Community Care Services Board of Directors, to Speak at the 10th Annual Volunteer and Intern Recognition Luncheon

BOSTON, MA — April 10, 2008 — Unitel, a leading telecommunications provider, announced today that Mark Worster, the company’s president and Chairman of Community Care Services Board of Directors will be the featured speaker at the 10th Annual Volunteer and Intern Recognition Luncheon on April 17th at the Highland Country Club.

The nonprofit human services agency will honor the 240 volunteers and interns who contributed 10,678 hours to the agency during the past year. The theme will be “Every Volunteer Makes a Difference”. Community Care Services is a participating agency of United Way; and has over 30 diverse programs throughout Southeastern Massachusetts, which serve over 7,300 people a year. The agency’s annual “Volunteer of the Year” will be awarded.

“It is both an honor and a privilege to represent Community Care Services at one of its largest events of the year,” said Mr. Worster. “This special luncheon is our way of saying thank you to all of the women and men who have contributed their valuable time, energy, and money. As a result of their dedication, hard work, and love of for others in their community our organization has a profound impact in the betterment of many individuals. I’m thrilled that we have the ongoing support of so many great people.”

Community Care Services is a private, non-profit corporation that provides emotional, educational and behavioral support to more than 10,000 children, adults, elders, and families annually throughout Southeastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Their licensed social workers, clinicians, medical professionals, counselors, teachers, trained mediators and administrative staff are qualified to support the needs of the whole person. Since its inception in 1952, Community Care Services has grown to over 30 locations with 48 unique programs.
